

SIBLING REVELRY

ARTIST STATEMENT: Sibling Revelry Project

Kelly and I are a brother and sister art team. We have distinct aesthetic sensibilities; yet I believe we work amazingly well together to create beautiful images combining our two artistic styles. Our latest project is “Sibling Revelry.” Sibling Revelry is a collection of 60 pieces, all of which are 6” x 6”.

This collaboration started when we lived in separate States. We would start pieces, and then either seek a critique from the other through our blog, or we would simply send a collection of pieces to the other to complete. In the end, this process challenged us to solve artistic problems and to critically analyze our own thoughts on art (the process and the end product).

We finished about 100 pieces, and from those pieces we selected 60 that we believe are the best pieces, which highlight the value of collaboration. We will exhibit this series through several art shows over the next year, along with an e-book that contains a selection of the pieces (completed works and works-in-progress), excerpts from the blog, and an essay from Kelly that analyzes the entire show from her perspective as an art therapist.
